

CARE INSTRUCTIONS

Synthetic sports surface.

Cleaning and care of the poured rubber (EPDM) surfaces on SoccerGround multisport and mini-pitch courts.

SYNTHETIC SURFACE CARE

Cleaning and care

These instructions apply to the bound synthetic surfaces (impact-attenuating and sports-court surfaces such as REGUPOL playfix and multicourt) that SoccerGround installs on multisport and mini-pitch courts. Cared for correctly, the surface keeps its appearance, its drainage and its playing characteristics for many years.

1. GENERAL

The level, fine-pored surface largely prevents dirt from penetrating. Litter stays on top and is immediately visible, so cleaning takes little effort and is done quickly and inexpensively. Keep the surface free of oil, gasoline and acids, however, as these cause staining or damage.

2. ROUTINE CLEANING

For routine cleaning with normal soiling we recommend a broom or a leaf vacuum.

3. BASIC CLEANING

Stubborn, heavy soiling and other residues that affect the look of the surface or have penetrated the pores are removed by a basic clean. Do this at least twice a year (in spring after the snow melts and in fall after the leaves drop) with a garden hose or pressure washer. Caution: no rotating nozzle or turbo nozzle. This clears the pores, prevents moss and algae and refreshes the colors. No cleaning agent is needed.

4. REMOVING STAINS

Remove very heavy soiling and stains as soon as possible, as certain substances settle into the surface over time and then become difficult or impossible to remove completely. Brush off fresh stains, then rinse with clean water or use the pressure washer.

5. DEEP CLEANING

Stubborn stains and dirt particles that work their way deep into the surface over time clog its open-pored structure. The result is moss and algae growth and a loss of drainage. To counter this, have a cleaning contractor carry out a professional machine clean using the pressure-vacuum method every two years, in addition to the regular basic cleans.

Questions?

For advice on caring for your SoccerGround, or a recommendation for a cleaning contractor, call (386) 589-6417 or email usa@soccerground.com.

Small space.
Big game.

SoccerGround USA LLC

116 Sawtooth Ln
Ormond Beach, FL 32174

(386) 589-6417
usa@soccerground.com
www.soccerground.com

AS OF: SEPTEMBER 2026