THE ORIGINAL DFB MINI-PITCH

SoccerGround Classic

In 2007 the DFB (German Football Association) decided to actively promote football as a school and grassroots sport, and to use play to help integrate children and young people. More than 5,000 schools and clubs applied for the DFB grant, which covered the cost of the entire pitch (excluding groundwork).

1,000 Mini-Pitches were planned and 1,019 SoccerGround courts were built, funded by the proceeds of the 2006 World Cup and UEFA. Spread evenly across Germany's 21 regional football associations, they give as many children as possible a pitch nearby. Following the DFB's example, the Brandenburg Football Association built another 84, Mecklenburg-Western Pomerania 15, and many other clients around 300 additional SoccerGround pitches.

SoccerGround Advanced: Free-standing and just as sturdy as the Classic: For schoolyards, car parks and sites that must not be dug up.
