THE ORIGINAL DFB MINI-PITCH

SoccerGround Classic

In 2007 the DFB (German Football Association) decided to actively promote soccer as a school and grassroots sport, and to use play to help integrate kids and young people. More than 5,000 schools and clubs applied for the DFB grant, which covered the cost of the entire field (excluding groundwork).

1,000 Mini-Pitches were planned and 1,019 SoccerGround courts were built, funded by the proceeds of the 2006 World Cup and UEFA. Spread evenly across Germany's 21 regional soccer associations, they give as many kids as possible a field nearby. Following the DFB's example, the Brandenburg Football Association built another 84, Mecklenburg-Western Pomerania 15, and many other clients around 300 additional SoccerGround fields.

SoccerGround Advanced: Free-standing and just as sturdy as the Classic: For schoolyards, parking lots and sites that must not be dug up.
